

she has over 22 years' experience of working with minority communities in national and international settings. She has published widely on migration and mental health, refugees and asylum seekers, community psychology, critical psychology, social justice, professional and ethical practice and social exclusion. Pauline continues to volunteer with a local refugee organization and she is also working with the International Organization for Migration to establish the Migration Health and Development Initiative (MHADI). Pauline is also a filmmaker and stained glass artist!

SIEGFRIED WALCH, Mag. Rer.Soc.Oec, Dr. Rer.Pol, is Professor and Head of Department for Nonprofit, Social & Health Management at the Management Center Innsbruck since 2005. Previously, from 1996 to 2009, Dr. Walch was the CEO of SVWP Communication Management, a consulting company specializing in policy communication and leadership coaching. Further he co-initiated the European Master in Health Economics & Management, a Joint Master degree launched in 2012 together with Erasmus University Rotterdam, University of Bologna and University of Oslo.

MARCIANA POPESCU, PHD, Senior Fulbright Scholar Austria 2016-2017, is an Associate Professor at Fordham University, Graduate School of Social Service. Dr. Popescu worked in international development and studied various aspects of the field since 1995; she conducted study tours with students in the Dominican Republic, and Haiti, focusing on human rights violations, statelessness, post-disaster displacement and forced migration. In 2016 she was awarded a Fulbright scholarship and spent 5 months in Austria/Europe studying migration policies and their impact on refugees in general and women asylum seekers and refugees in particular. Dr. Popescu continues her research on migration, and teaches courses focusing on rights-based policy practice, international nonprofits, international social development, and women's rights.

Fordham University Graduate School of Social Service and Loyola University Chicago present

INTERNATIONAL HEALTH CARE Challenges, Best Practices, and Human Rights Mandate

Friday, June 23, 2017

9:00am - 2:30pm

John Felice Rome Center
Via Massimi, Rome

This symposium brings together experts to discuss international health care issues and explores practice implications for practitioners across disciplines. The goal is to start a dialogue between educators, policy makers, and practitioners across countries and to identify ways in which international health care could be more effectively framed as a human right.

PROGRAM

9:00-9:30	Registration
9:30-9:40	Welcome Address
9:40-9:50	Introduction of Symposium & Keynote Speaker
9:50-10:30	Keynote: Dr. Armin Fidler
10:30-11:30	Panel Discussion <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Dr. Cristina Tilli, Professor of SW, Rome: On the social and health care system and the role of social workers• Dr. Pauline Lane, Anglia Ruskin University: On migration and health• Dr. Siegfried Walch, MCI: On interdisciplinary international collaborations focusing on health care• Dr. Marciana Popescu, Fordham University GSS: On international health care and human rights - Moderator
11:30-12:00	Q&A
12:00-1:00	Lunch Break
1:00-1:15	Short Flm
1:15-2:00	Workshop Sessions
2:00-2:15	Reports from Workshop Sessions
2:15-2:30	Closing Remarks

SPEAKERS

ARMIN FIDLER, MD, MPH, MSc. DTM&H

Senior Lecturer, European Master in Health Economics and Management (Universities of Bologna, MCI Innsbruck, Oslo and Rotterdam)

An Austrian national, Armin Fidler joined the World Bank in 1993, was Manager for Health, Nutrition, Population and was eventually appointed Lead Advisor for Health Policy and Strategy. He served on the Board of the Global Fund and GAVI. Dr. Fidler holds a MD degree from the University of Innsbruck, a DTM&H from the Bernhard Nocht Institute, Hamburg, a MPH and MSc. degree in Health Policy and Management from Harvard University. He also earned certificates in Macroeconomic Management and Fiscal Policy from the IMF's Joint Vienna Institute, in Management from the Harvard Business School and in Public Finance and Welfare Economics from the LSE. Dr. Fidler is an Adjunct Faculty at the George Washington University in Washington DC. Prior to joining the World Bank, Dr. Fidler served as Sub-Regional Advisor for PAHO/WHO, based in Mexico and was admitted to the Epidemic Intelligence Service (EIS) at the US Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

CRISTINA TILLI is a social worker, and has worked in health services and local administrations for about 30 years. Currently she is a lecturer at Roma Tre University providing continuing education courses for social workers.

PAULINE LANE, PHD, is sociologist and currently works as a Reader (Associate Professor) in the Faculty of Health Social Care and Education at Anglia Ruskin University (UK). For six years Pauline worked as the Director of HARP (Health for Asylum Seekers and Refugees Programme) and